

Chris Wildes – Backend Web Developer

SUMMARY OF QUALIFICATIONS

Mr. Wildes has been assigned the role of Backend Web Developer to participate in the assembled a multidisciplinary and collaborative team. He has ten (10) years of professional development experience. This includes experience designing, developing and deploying middle-tier, service and integration layers for enterprise systems. He is a seasoned developer who has experience with the full spectrum of development activities. Including developing and consuming APIs, testing frameworks and TDD and continuous integration and deployment environments. He has a proven record of success with Agile methodologies. Experience using modern, backend development tools, techniques, and methods for the creation and deployment of backend applications, server-side deployment units, data storage and integration.

TECHNICAL EXPERTISE

(INCLUDES LATEST VERSIONS OF THE FOLLOWING TECHNOLOGIES)

Languages and Frameworks:

Java/JavaEE, J2SE, Servlets, JDBC, Struts, Hibernate, Android Jelly Bean, Python, SOLR, SQL, Junit, MyBatis, Perl, C/C++, Unix

Web Technologies:

MVC, JSP, JSTL, JQuery, JavaScript, HTML5, XML, XSD, XSA, CSS, CSS3, PL/SQL, JUnit Testing

Operating Systems IDEs:

IBM Rational Software Development Platform 6.0, Eclipse, ANT, NetBeans

Application Servers:

IBM WAS, Oracle WebLogic, Caucho Resin, JBoss, Tomcat

Databases and Tools:

Oracle, IBM DB2, MS SQL Server, MongoDB, Toad, JasperReports

Configuration Management:

IBM Rational ClearCase Explorer, Perforce, WinCVS, Chef, JIRA, Eclipse, Subversion, CruiseControl, Watson, Git, GitHub

Processes, Concepts and Tools:

Agile Methodologies, Test Driven Development (TDD)

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE ON FEDERAL AND COMMERCIAL PROJECTS (2005 – PRESENT)

EDUCATION

College of William and Mary

Graduation Date: May 2005

Major: B. S. Computer Science